1. PANG Hak-se, North Korean Minister of Social Security, issued secret order number 55 for all Ministry of Social Security field offices containing the following instructions from KIM Il-song:
 - a. A negotiated peace in Korea has a definite significance in the world people's movement for general peace. A truce in Korea is not the end of the Korean people's struggle for peace and unification, but is the start of the second step toward this objective. Peaceful unification appeals to all Koreans.
 - b. All intelligence agents will be trained in these ideas and will spread them within the ROK. Agents who are not members of the Labor Party are more suitable for this task. Party member agents will be trained to reinforce South Korean Labor Party activity through the Party organs, and will be given "agit-prop" training stressing the political principles of the Party.
2. To the public, however, the North Korean Labor Party continues to say that North Korea will fight until the last American is driven from Korea.
